Customer Preparation for Bed Bug Treatments

1. Dismantling the bed and standing the mattress and box spring on the end is required. The fabric on bottom of the box spring “dust catcher” will need to be removed. If tears or holes are on the mattress or box spring they should be discarded. The “dust catcher” should be removed from couches as well.
2. Bed frames and head boards must also be dismantled, especially if they are wood. Head boards attached to walls should be removed.
3. Nightstands and dressers should be emptied and drawers pulled out. Bed bugs often hide in the cracks and corners of these pieces of furniture. They will have to be tipped over to inspect the wood work underneath.
4. Reducing clutter is a necessity. Belongings strewn about rooms provide places for bed bugs to hide and impede inspection and treatment.
5. All clothing and bedding garments should be bagged and laundered in very hot soap and water. Clean clothes can be run through a hot dryer and then bagged.
6. Premises should be vacated 3 to 4 hours after treatment for chemical to dry.

Other Helpful Hints

- ❖ Do not vacuum or sweep any floors or furniture for up to 3 weeks after treatment if possible. Doing so will make the chemical less effective. Do all the vacuuming and cleaning before treatments.
- ❖ Might want to purchase mattress covers after treatment is finished on both the mattress and box spring.
- ❖ The chemical works most effectively approximately 3 weeks. If activity is still noticed, a follow up treatment should be considered.

Treating for bed bugs is particularly challenging and proper preparation from the customer is essential for an effective treatment.

You are paying for Pest-All to treat your home for the elimination of bed bugs, please help make our treatment as effective as possible.
